

LITTLE CHANCE FOR REVISION OF
TAXES BY JULY 1

Congressional Jam Destroys Possibility for Quick Action on Bills.

BUSY DAYS FOR HARDING
Demand of Farmers for Remedial Legislation Gums Wheels of Congress.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921)

Washington, D. C. — Legislative plans for a definite understanding by July 1 of the taxes that business men must pay for this year seem to be going by the boards on account of the inability of congress to get much done at the present session which ends in a fortnight.

So much legislation of a general character will be left over for the special session to be called by Mr. Harding that the plan of getting revenue legislation out of the way by the end of June is obviously impossible. During the campaign it was whispered by the knowing ones that every business man in the United States would be advised by July 1 just how much of the income of the year 1921 must go to the government. The date was tentatively fixed as a goal because many business houses keep their books from July 1 to July 1 and it was considered valuable to know for example just how much buying to do and at what margin business could be conducted for the ensuing year. Moreover, concerns which had failed to do very much business in the first six months of the year 1921 were to be benefited by the knowledge that they wouldn't be troubled with the excess profits tax either for the first or last six months of 1921. Indeed while there has been much talk of repealing the excess profits tax, business cannot proceed on that assumption until action to that effect has been taken and some idea is given as to the character of the substitute tax.

Legislative Jam
Until the present congress got into a legislative jam, it was assumed that March 1 would see the passage of all the important appropriation bills as well as the passage of some general legislation for which the agricultural interests of the country had been pressing. The danger that some appropriation bills may go over until the next session and that the farmers' organization will continue their fight early in the next session if for example the bill to control the packers fails to get through makes it likely that the first months of the new session will be slow moving.

Mr. Harding is being urged to call the extra session as early as March 15 though April 15 was previously mentioned as a tentative date. The date of the extra session is of double importance to Mr. Harding. First, it bears a direct relationship to the amount of work that can be accomplished before the heat of summer affects the legislative energies and enthusiasm of an overworked congress. Second, it means an avalanche of engagements for the president with members of congress who will be seeking offices for their constituents or else the advice and influence of the president with respect to pending legislation. President Wilson always used to shape his plans so as to be relieved of legislative pressure but he did not succeed. Congress was always a millstone around the neck of the chief executive both in the demands for favor and precious time.

The new president will be so busy setting his feet on the ground in the first few weeks of his administration that his work in organizing the executive departments will be seriously interfered with if he must give his immediate attention to conferences with congressional leaders. If the present congress had headed the warning sound by Mr. Harding when he was last in Washington, namely, to get as much done during this session as possible, it would have been feasible to postpone the beginning of the extra session to the latter part of April and thus permit of at least six weeks of uninterrupted effort in getting the machinery of the executive branch of the government working smoothly.

Of the many organizations whose legislation may be lost in the shuffle this session, the farmers' bureau are preparing most actively to push their measures through before March 4. It begins to appear that the emergency tariff bill will fail to become a law even though the conference committees of both houses get it ready to go to the White House in the next week or so. A presidential veto will further delay the bill.

However, the bill to control the packers which has already passed the senate and has been favorably reported by the house committee on agriculture simply waits an opportunity for a vote. The farmers' organizations are already emitting bitter criticism of the Republican house leaders and demanding a new leadership for the next session. This is their way of making the house leaders realize that any move to suppress packer legislation will not be tolerated. However the plight of the farmers is no different from that of other organizations which have been clamoring for action at the present session of congress and will be a lucky thing if the two houses pass all the appropriation bills before the 15th of March 4.

Spencer, Ind., — James Herrin always had a secret hunch he would be famous some day—and this was his day.

Jimmie owns the hilly forty acres on the southern quarter of section 36, eight and three tenths miles from Spencer, Ind., and right up against the town of Whitehall. This is the spot on which the center of population of the United States rests, according to Washington experts. McCormick's creek canyon, a favorite Hoosier show place, is only five miles over the hills of "sweet Owen" country.

Engineering experts are expected here from Indiana university within a few days to pick the exact spot, which all calculations place on Herrin's farm. In the meantime Herrin is the center of interest and he carries his honors lightly.

Owen county never was much for farming but Herrin thought he had as much of a chance of becoming famous as Abe Martin and his other neighbor Hoosiers over in Brown county who got their names before the public in various ways.

President-elect Harding Still Has Six More Appointments to Make.

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Augustine, Fla.—President-elect Harding's cabinet is still a mystery though the eleventh-hour is almost here.

The best information Tuesday regarding the cabinet is as follows: Definite selections—Charles E. Hughes, New York, for secretary of state; Harry M. Daugherty, Ohio, for attorney general; Senator Albert B. Fall, New Mexico, for secretary of interior; Henry C. Wallace, Iowa, for secretary of agriculture.

Will H. Hays is regarded as fairly certain to be postmaster general. Charles G. Dawes positively will not be in the cabinet, persons close to the president-elect said Tuesday.

Harding has invited former Governor Lowden of Illinois, to become secretary of the navy, but Lowden is holding off. Uncertainty surrounds the treasury, war, commerce and labor portfolios.

Andrew W. Mellon, Pittsburgh, mentioned for secretary of the treasury, is expected in Florida within a day or two.

Washington—An enlisted man of the navy is under arrest in connection with a possible bomb plot to blow up the presidential yacht Mayflower. Secretary Daniels announced Tuesday.

The man under arrest was a member of the crew of the Mayflower. Last week he was said to have asked the boatswain of the Mayflower that he be given the watch at a certain hour of the night as he expected a package to be brought on board. He pleaded with the boatswain that it would be worth a large amount of money to him if the officer allowed this, Daniels said.

London.—No Irish self-government can be obtained through violence, King George declared Tuesday in opening parliament.

"The situation in Ireland causes me distress," said the king, in his speech from the throne.

"A misguided section of the Irish people persists in resorting to methods of violence with the object of establishing of an Irish republic. No Irish unity nor Irish self-government can be attained by these means."

The king announced the government will attempt to cope with unemployment through the use of "unemployment insurance."

Bills for the reorganization of the British railways, for the protection of essential industries against unfair competition, and imposing further restrictions on liquor trade will be introduced, he said.

He declared he hoped "negotiations for a trade agreement with Russia will be brought to a successful conclusion."

King George asserted that estimates to be presented to parliament will reflect the government's determination to reduce expenses.

He also pleaded for more thorough cooperation between capital and labor. London in Gala Dress

Pre-war splendor and ceremony marked the convocation of parliament. The king and queen drove to the house through lanes of troops and appeared before the house in robes of white accompanied by their brilliantly clad suites. The Prince of Wales and his brother, the Duke of York, also attended the ceremonies.

The diplomatic galleries were filled with all representatives of foreign countries among the ambassadors being the German envoys.

The king and queen left Buckingham palace and the booming of salutes of artillery in Hyde Park. They donned state robes in the peers' chamber and advanced at once to the dias from which the king read his address to the peers and the "faithful commons" which was summoned from its chambers. Premier Lloyd George, Andrew Bonar Law, and other officials, walking by twos, led the commons procession.

Liquor Restriction
The king referred to the Irish situation almost at the opening of his address. He declared he trusted the people will "in the near future" repudiate violence and agree to work out their future under the home rule bill.

"In the light of experiences of the war," the king announced, "new liquor bills will be introduced in the United Kingdom providing further restrictions."

Inauguration of the new council in India was announced officially in the address. King George declaring he hoped for the appeasement of political strife and better progress under its rule.

Great Exodus
From Capitol
Begins March 5

By H. B. HUNT
Washington, D. C.—The real turnover in administrations will take place March 5, not March 4, when the new president is inaugurated, as is generally supposed.

President Wilson, Vice President Marshall and Secretary to the President Tamm will yield their jobs March 4, but the cabinet changes will not occur until March 5. The new cabinet nominations will go to a special session of the new Senate on the afternoon of March 4 and will be confirmed.

"What do you expect to be doing March 5 and immediately thereafter, and where are you going to be?"

This question, put to each of the administration heads, excepting the president, elicited the following answers:

Secretary of State
Cobly: "I hope to catch an afternoon train to New York and begin to attend to my private business."

Secretary of the Treasury
Houston: "I am absolutely without plans either for the immediate or indefinite future. I recently bought a new house here and probably will be enjoying myself at home."

Secretary of War
Baker: "I have reservations on the 7 p. m. train for Cleveland. I'll probably put in Sunday unpacking boxes and handing pictures in a new home and Monday will start in practicing law."

Attorney General
Palmer: "I'll turn this office over to my successor March 5 and for a few days will stay in Washington getting ready for a two or three-week vacation somewhere in the south. Then PALMER."

Postmaster General
Burleson: "As soon as my successor is qualified I shall leave for Texas to take care of my private interests and get out of politics."

Secretary of Interior
Payne: "Good taste requires that I stay here until my successor qualifies, and I expect to spend the greater part of March 5 here in the office waiting to turn it over to him. Then I'll go back to private life."

Secretary of Navy
Daniels: "I'll leave for Raleigh, N. C., the evening of Mar. 5 and arrive there Sunday morning. I'll go home and wash up, then to the Methodist church and ask forgiveness for my sins and greet old friends. Monday morning I'll go down to the News and Observer office, take off my coat, roll up my sleeves and become an editor again."

Secretary of Agriculture
Meredit: "Inauguration Day is Friday. On Saturday I'll turn this office over to my successor. I'll compress a vacation into Sunday and on Monday leave for Des Moines. I have greatly enjoyed my experience here, but I'll be mighty glad to get back to my Iowa friends and the publishing business."

Secretary of Commerce
Alexander: "On the 5th I'll be arranging to take my family back to Galatin, Mo., where I will reopen the old law office that has been closed for 14 years, dust off the books and wait for clients."

Secretary of Labor
Wilson: "I'm not certain just what I'll be doing, but I'll probably go to my farm in Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, as soon as relieved of official duties."

MANY FARMERS
HERE FOR TWO DAYS' MEETING

Market Commissioner Nordman
Is Principal Talker Tuesday Morning.

SPLENDID CORN EXHIBITS
Farmers Witness Demonstration Dairy Cow Testing and Judging.

Samples of some of the finest corn ever grown in Outagamie county are on exhibition in the main corridor of the vocational school building Tuesday morning. Thirty-five samples were placed on exhibition Monday evening and the number was increased to 100 Tuesday morning, requiring several additional tables. Exhibits were still coming in at noon and it is probable the total number by tonight will be close to the 200 mark. W. J. Jamison is in charge. About 200 farmers were in attendance.

A combined corn show and farmers' meeting is something new for Outagamie county and its success is assured. All kinds of field corn, sweet corn and pop corn are on exhibition and the quality is better than usually seen at county and state fairs. To the average layman every ear and every display is entitled to a prize.

The program of the two days' session opened at the vocational school at ten o'clock Tuesday morning with an address on "Grading Farm Products and Market Prices" by Edward Nordman, director of Wisconsin Division of Markets. Herman Wickert of Centerville, formerly assemblyman from this district presided. The auditorium was practically filled with farmers and their wives. In introducing him the chairman said he and Mr. Nordman had served in the legislature together, that their desks were adjoining and he observed that they frequently voted the same way. He said he came to know the worth of the man and that the farmers would also know his worth as soon as they heard him talk.

Mr. Nordman said that one of the duties of the Wisconsin division of markets was to assist in the organization of cooperative associations. "That is one of our functions," he said. "We have men on the road engaged in that constantly. It is the work of these men to have farmers organize on business principles. There is absolutely no reason why the farmer should not be able to do business and carry on a business that character as well as a private concern providing he does it on right business principles. When an organization starts anywhere it is our business to send a man to the locality and talk with the leaders and find out whether there is a need for it and assist it in getting it started. I am glad to say those we have worked with have been successful."

"Not only do we start new organizations, but we help further the activities of older organizations, for instance, the Wisconsin Cheese Producers association. That was based on business principles and now includes one-half of all the cheese factories and cheese producers of Sheboygan county."

Mr. Nordman said there were two many cheese warehouses in the country and too much duplication and waste of time. Concentration and shipment in carload lots to destination at reduced freight rates was the new plan. In this way the middle men are disposed of. In northern Wisconsin a large number of cheese factories are being organized and next summer this federation will be doing business there as well as at Plymouth.

At 11 o'clock the farmers visited Dr. William Madison's barn where a demonstration on the points of a dairy cow was held. The afternoon's program included an address on "The Market Demand For Dairy Cows" by Arthur Colentine, and another address on "Better Markets" by Mr. Nordman.

New York.—The readjustments in business that we are now undergoing are but laying the foundations for a better and more enduring prosperity than we have ever known in the past.

All that is necessary for us to capitalize our vast possibilities is the vision to see our opportunities and the will to accomplish the task that confronts us. There is not only ample reason for sane optimism.

Because of world conditions and their influence upon us, business recovery here is naturally gradual—but all the better for that. It is a matter of national congratulation, however, that there are abundant indications that the tide in our business affairs has unmistakably turned.

Confidence has been restored, and, very important, the latest reports from agricultural districts disclose the fact that the plight of our farmers, generally is not as bad as we had been led to believe at first, despite the precipitate fall in the price of farm products. Crops are being marketed gradually and that means that newly created wealth is being made available to the nation.

Buying has begun again. More industrial plants are reopening. Transportation facilities have been considerably improved since the railroads were returned to private control through greater efficiency in their use. Bank reserves have been materially strengthened and banking conditions in common with undemanding business conditions, are sound and have been considerably bettered recently through the more accelerated movement of agricultural products to market and through the more rapid liquidation of paper held by the banks.

We have all the power and resources we need.

Two addresses of welcome will be given, one by Mayor J. Austin Hawes and the other by P. A. Kornely, president of the Appleton board. Hugh G. The response for the realtors will be given by A. J. Edminster, Holcombe.

That Assembly Will Pass
Matheson Bill.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—Defeated primary candidates are barred from appearing in general elections as independent candidates, according to the provisions of a bill introduced in the assembly today by Assemblyman F. W. Peterson of Milwaukee. The bill if enacted into law would have far-reaching effect, particularly upon Wisconsin. Assemblyman Peterson said his bill was for the protection of the primaries. The practice, now general, of defeated candidates entering election contests as independents is manifestly unfair, Peterson said, and his measure would curb the practice.

Legislation curtailing the state highway expansion program may grow out of a joint meeting of the legislature called for Wednesday night in a joint resolution introduced in the house Tuesday by Wallis Ingalls, assemblyman from Racine.

The trunk highway system, planned for the state, calls for the construction of 7,500 miles of roadway. Ingalls said in support of his resolution. Between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 will be spent this year, the assemblyman said.

"Mr. Hirst, the state highway engineer, has resigned," said Ingalls. "We need a superior organization to spend this money. Additional legislation may be needed and we ought to be able to decide upon the feasibility of hurrying this construction program through or curtailing construction, in view of the heavy tax burdens."

Ingalls said the meeting was agreeable to the state highway commissioners and some legislation would be suggested by commission members. The resolution was adopted.

Assemblyman C. E. Hanson, Pierce, introduced a bill to provide for the establishment of a state printing plant. An amendment to the constitution is necessary.

Assemblyman J. C. Shafer, Milwaukee, would fine drivers operating an automobile while intoxicated $500 for the first offense and imprisonment up to five years for succeeding offenses.

The Matheson prohibition enforcement bill was not reported out of state affairs committee while the recommendation for indefinite postponement today and reconsideration of the report of the committee may be sought by the bill's author who is likewise chairman of the committee on state affairs.

In a statement issued Tuesday claiming support of progressives the anti-Saloon league said 44 members of the assembly would favor the Matheson bill when it reached the floor of the house.

A general investigation of the question of high rates of building construction, inadequate housing facilities and high costs of building materials was called for in a joint resolution introduced in the senate by Senator Czerwinski, Milwaukee. The move is similar to the Lockwood investigation in New York and the probe by the Illinois legislature. A special legislative committee would make the investigation, according to the resolution.

Creation of a permanent school fund, the income of which shall be used exclusively for educational purposes is provided in a bill introduced in the senate by Senator George Stuenkel, Kenosha.

The bill authorizes the appropriation of 70 per cent of all money received from inheritance tax applies to this fund. The income is divided three ways, the common schools receiving 40 per cent and the normals and university 10 per cent each.

FARMER MEETING ENDS WEDNESDAY

R. E. Vaughan and E. L. Luther to Speak on Practical Farm Subjects.

Addresses by R. E. Vaughan and E. L. Luther, Madison, on Wednesday, will close the 2-day farmer meeting which was in session Tuesday in the vocational school. A large attendance is anticipated, because cabbage growing is to be discussed and members of county breed associations have been urged to attend.

Mr. Vaughan's first lecture at 10 o'clock in the morning on "Controlling Crop Diseases" will be illustrated by lantern slides. It will contain information that may have a dollars and cents value to every farmer who finds his crops infested with injurious insects. He speaks at 1:30 in the afternoon on "Can the Loss Due to Stump Rot of Cabbage Be Controlled? Yes." The latter is a subject on which he speaks with authority. He has been one of the leaders in the movement to stamp out this disease which causes thousands of dollars in losses each year. His achievements in Racine county have given him prominence in the state.

Mr. Luther consented to come here because he believed the gathering would be a large one. He speaks at 11 o'clock on "The Best Corn Fields in the State," and at 2:30 on "How Our Breeders' Associations Can Push Better Livestock in Outagamie County." Corn show awards are to be announced Wednesday.

PEOPLE WHO LIVE IN CITY DETERMINE WHAT IT SHALL BE

Appleton Business Men Hear Interesting Address in Neenah.

Hugh G. Corbett and several other Appleton men attended the Valentine day dinner of the Neenah Civic association at S. A. Cook armory Monday evening.

With all men and women seated at the tables, it was considered the biggest civic event ever held in the Twin Cities. Members of Menasha's chamber of commerce attended in a body and there were also representatives from Oshkosh, and Waupaca commercial bodies.

Allen D. Albert, Minneapolis, delivered an excellent address. He told what he believed were the factors that really make a city and make it grow. The natural advantages of the Fox river valley will not make the valley, he said. It is the people who make a city or community.

Complaints about lake resorts and their conduct were mentioned by the speaker. He said people blamed the managers of these places for the conditions, but that the people themselves were to blame. The cities of the valley ought to own these two places and conduct them as wholesome parks for the good of everybody, he said. Then the conditions described would not exist.

Need of a city plan was emphasized by Mr. Albert. He said most cities had spent more because of lack of a city plan than a well organized plan would cost. He also said wholesale houses are a necessity to any successful city. All big men and all people who accomplished anything lived in the temperate zone, said Mr. Albert.

Mr. Corbett found much sentiment in favor of the proposed state chamber of commerce. He was told by Edward R. Smith, Oshkosh, president of the Wisconsin Association of Commercial Secretaries, that many Wisconsin commercial organizations had endorsed the movement.

Mrs. August Grimmer returned to her home at Two Rivers Tuesday, after visiting her son, William Grimmer, Circle-st., for five weeks.

A. H. Shoemaker of Eau Claire, is an Appleton business visitor Tuesday.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

Tells How to Darken Gray Hair With a Home-Made Mixture

Joley Williams, the well-known American actress, recently made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it, with a home-made mixture:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off." adv.

A PROMINENT MINNESOTA WOMAN

St. Paul, Minn.—"I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to help me during expectancy and can say that it is all that is claimed for it. I also took Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets at the same time and this they are a splendid purgative. I have four children and we are all in perfect health. Dr. Pierce's book, 'The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser,' has been a great help to me in bringing up my family. I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's remedies to those who need them."—Mrs. A. J. THIS WILL BENEFIT APPLETON WOMEN

Stomach trouble in women is often due to retained waste matter. This poisons the stomach for months causing gas on the stomach and sour stomach. The old, poisonous accumulation should be cleaned out with simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-I-Ka. Acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel, Adler-I-Ka removes matter you never thought was in your system. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach and chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis.—F. G. Walker, Druggist. adv.

AN EXCELLENT FISCAL PROGRAM

Political gossip in Washington credits the administration leaders in congress with a fiscal policy which contemplates 1. refunding of government war obligations over a period of forty or fifty years, together with postponing liquidation of the four billion dollar Victory loan which matures in 1923. (2) repeal of the excess profits tax, scaling down of the higher surtaxes and raising the income tax exemption to pre-war levels. (3) Exercise of such economy in government expenditures that no substitute for the excess profits tax will be necessary. (4) Levy of a special tax, possibly on sales, to raise the fund for the soldiers' bonus. (5) Increase of the tariff for revenue as well as protective purposes.

This program proceeds on the theory that the next generation as well as the present ought to be made liable for the discharge of the war debt. We think it will be generally conceded that the liquidation of this burden over a period of from forty to fifty years would be entirely just as well as economically sound. It is certain that the next generation will enjoy the benefits which accrue to civilization from the World war to an even larger extent than the people of today. Therefore, they ought cheerfully to assist in meeting the monetary cost.

The proposal to repeal the excess profits tax, reduce surtaxes in general and raise the income tax exemptions to pre-war levels is wholly in the public interest. It will benefit the consumer quite as much as it will business and industry. There is no reason why we cannot adjust our expenditures to revenues that will make it possible to eliminate these burdens in taxes. The practice of consistent and rational economy at Washington will go a long way toward reducing taxes, while disarmament would relieve the necessity for super-taxation or a special tax to meet the soldiers' bonus, provision for which it is generally understood congress will make during the present year.

The one possibility of mistake in the otherwise excellent fiscal program of the new administration lies in tariff revision. With proposals for a protective tariff residing in the hands of Congressman Fordney there is danger of going to extremes which would be quite unjustifiable. It is said that Mr. Fordney's general tariff bill as it will be reported in the house committee provides a greater degree of protection than was given to American industry under the Payne-Aldrich act. Tariff legislation of this character would be detrimental to our commercial interests abroad, would be far beyond the needs of American industry and would levy objectionable tribute on the American consumer. Mr. Fordney's tariff ideas are distinctly reactionary and it is to be hoped the Harding administration will not be misled into adopting them.

THE PRESIDENT MISREPRESENTED

Recently a spectacular assault was made upon President Wilson in the senate over the charge that while attending the Paris peace conference the president had promised representatives of the allied powers that he would use his efforts when he got back home to have the United States cancel the debts owed to it by the allies. The president was denounced not only for his reputed attitude toward debt cancellation but for assuming to obligate the United States on his own responsibility to such a concession to our recent co-belligerents. Some senators attempted to make a scandal out of the incident and in addition there was a deal of inflated innuendo touching alleged representations to Washington on the subject. The facts were that the attempts by Great Britain, concurred in by France, to have the United States treat its loans as contributions to the success of allied arms had been published months before and were well known to those kept informed on European affairs. It now develops that the charges made against the president are wholly without foundation. Washington dispatches say that written proofs exist that Mr. Wilson's position was the contrary to that reported and that the accusations against him were "absolutely absurd." Only two presidents, Washington and Lincoln, were subjected to anything like the false charges that have been heaped upon Mr. Wilson. Ninety-nine hundredths of these attacks have been fabricated out of whole cloth or out of sinister purposes to misrepresent partial statements of facts. Our presidents are not in the habit of wilfully betraying their trusts. That accusation would not stand against any of them. It will not be many years before the nation lives to repent the malign abuse heaped upon President Wilson, and to hold in genuine contempt those guilty of it.

JUDGE LANDIS IMPEACHED

The impeachment of Federal Judge Landis in the house of representatives should not be taken too seriously. It is inevitable that the spectacular methods employed by Judge Landis in the administration of justice should earn for him many strong enemies. Whatever his faults may be there is no denying the fact that he possesses a keen sense of justice, that he upholds law and order with stern determination, that he is 100 per cent American in his support of our institutions and that he is the friend of the people in the redress of their wrongs and in their legal controversies with powerful interests.

In the main it is safe to infer that forces hostile to Judge Landis are reactionary. When a United States senator from South Carolina arose in the senate and denounced Judge Landis for his criticism of an Ottawa, Illinois, bank in connection with an embezzlement case because the defaulter had been paid a salary of only $90 a month, Mr. Landis came back at his assailant with a seathing denunciation of child labor in the south and of employment conditions in the cotton mills of South Carolina in which the senator is interested. This was a passage of swords between reaction and justice and the public will without hesitation award the honors to Judge Landis.

Whether Mr. Landis has violated his oath of office by his acceptance of the post of chief arbiter in the baseball world is a technical question. If he cannot hold his position as judge and engage in gainful pursuits, then he must give up one or the other. Other charges made against him would require the most convincing evidence to substantiate.

The public will, we have no doubt, give Judge Landis the benefit of the doubt which may exist as to his precise status, and it will also hold him innocent of the accusations registered against him until he is proven guilty. The public will not fail to take into consideration that congress is a hotbed of politics, and that a case of this kind may easily originate with the hostility of politicians and interests holding a grudge against Mr. Landis.

TODAY'S POEM

(By Edmund Vance Cooke)

NEWLYWEDES

By Winthrop Præd

Now the rite is duly done,
Now the word is spoken,
And the spell has made us one
Which may never be broken:
Rest we, dearest, in our home,
Roam o'er the heather,
We shall rest, we shall roam,
Shall we not together?

From this hour the summer rose
Sweeter breathes to charm us
From this hour the winter snows
Lighter fall to harm us;
Fair or foul on land or sea—
Come the wind or weather,
Rest and word, whether they be,
We shall share together.

WHAT BECOMES OF GERMAN PROSPERITY?

By Gilson Gardner

What to do with the $400,000,000 worth of German-owned property seized in this country during the war, has become a puzzling question. It is the theory of international law that the alien property of belligerent nations which is seized during the war and which is restored to its owner after the war is restored to its owner. German American citizens have hoped and expected to get their property back. The Versailles treaty provided the moral international principle by providing that this fund should be used to partially pay claims of Americans against Germany for American property seized or destroyed during the war.

Germany is left the job of compensating "her nationals" in the United States for the alien property thus taken. As things stand there is no redress for either the Americans who claim that Germany, or Germans with no such claim, American because "we are still at war" with Germany.

HOW TUBERCULOSIS SPREADS

As I explained the other day, in every hundred adults it is safe to say that 97 have latent tuberculosis, which produces no symptoms and does not impair health, and the other three develop active tuberculosis, that is, their latent or smoldering tuberculosis infection fighting up into active disease of the lungs or some other part of the body and accordingly impairing health.

Competent students of tuberculosis teach that the time of infection is infancy or childhood, as I explained in the preceding article on the subject. And they add that in youth or early adult life is the time of superinfection; that is, they assume that persons from the age of fifteen years to thirty years are likely to be exposed through prolonged intimate personal contact with one who has active lung tuberculosis and thus to suffer further and perhaps more violent infection or repeated inoculations, so to speak. This they call superinfection. It is true that most cases of active lung tuberculosis occur in persons from fifteen to thirty years. This is the time of life when chums, partners, pals, lovers, husband and wife are most intimately associated. It is the time, too, when we are likely to ignore or neglect matters of personal health or hygiene.

Kissing one who has lung tuberculosis or any other respiratory infection is a very good way to contract the disease. There is no joke about this. It is a well established fact that infection may be readily transferred through a kiss. Many cases of syphilis have been caused by infection through kissing, as the victims have learned to their sorrow. If you shake hands with one who has active lung tuberculosis, see to it that you wash your hands before unconsciously bringing fingers to your lips. Occasional or casual friendly visits to a person who has tuberculosis in an active state and who is intelligent and careful is absolutely without any danger to the visitor, provided there be no personal contact other than a shaking of hands and the precaution I have just mentioned is taken.

I told the other day why it is advisable, when meeting or talking with anyone who has any kind of respiratory infection (either tuberculosis or diphtheria or the common coryza or plain sore throat or bronchitis or pneumonia), to remain outside of the five-foot range. This may be done without embarrassment to anyone. The notion that the germs of tuberculosis or of any other disease may be carried in the air, or that they float about in the air seeking whom they may devour, is pure nonsense and unworthy of serious attention. No known disease can be spread through the air.

A visitor who handles anything such as a book or other object the patient has been handling should take the same precaution to wash the hands afterward before the fingers unconsciously stray to the lips, possibly to implant still living germs in the mouth.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Superfluous Information
Will you please tell me what chemicals to buy at the drug store for testing the urine and how to test for albumin, so one can do this without going to a doctor? What is Bright's disease and what is diabetes? What is the difference between real diabetes and the sugar diabetes? (H. F. F.)

ANSWER—Bright's disease is an indefinite name applied to nearly any disease of the kidneys. Diabetes is a functional incapacity on the part of the body to utilize sugars and starches as freely as these food substances are utilized in health. "Sugar diabetes" is just a bit of redundancy, like saying pneumonia of the lungs or headache of the head. I will not tell you what chemicals to use or how to test for albumin, because such information can do you no good and may do you harm. Supposing you did find some albumin present, then you would not know whether it had any significance. If your idea is merely to avoid having dealings with the doctor, my advice is that you let everything slide and do not experiment upon yourself. Negligence is safer than having a fool for your doctor, you know.

Near-Beer and Sauerkraut
Are tomatoes, near-beer, and sauerkraut harmful to the kidneys or the liver? How much water may a person with dropsy be allowed? My doctor says I should take more. (P. T. O. H.)

ANSWER—Tomatoes and sauerkraut are rather beneficial for the liver and kidneys, if you are not on a restricted regimen. In some diseases in which dropsy occurs it is advisable to limit the intake of water to a minimum for a time; in other diseases the dropsy may be best relieved without this restriction. Near-beer is certainly not a wholesome beverage for anyone, and particularly not for one with any kidney or liver trouble.

A Sufficient Breakfast
You said you would rather get one letter from a younger reader than many from older ones. I am sixteen, but very small for my age and quite thin. My entire breakfast is usually a dish of oatmeal, of which I am very fond, but mother thinks I may need something more. (Miss Doris S. V.)

ANSWER—If you will take plenty of fresh cream or milk with the oatmeal, it makes a breakfast quite sufficient for a little girl to grow on. Send me a stamped, addressed envelope and I will mail you some suggestions for increasing your weight.

Uneducated America

By Frederic J. Haskin

Haskin

Washington, D. C.—The United States of America is one of the hardest places in the civilized world in which to get a good education, in the opinion of a committee of the House which has been investigating the question.

A fourth of the men of fighting age in the United States are illiterates, many children never get adequate schooling, most of the teachers are incompetent. There are millions of immigrants in the country who can neither speak nor read English and many negro children never see the inside of a schoolroom. Thousands of schools are closed because no teachers can be obtained for the miserable salaries offered.

This disturbing picture of education in America is contained in the report of the house committee on education on the Towner Bill, and abundant proof of its truth is contained in the hearings which were held in connection with the bill.

This report is surely one of the most startling indictments of our civilization which has ever issued from Capitol Hill. The representatives and senators are always investigating something and reporting about it, but usually their findings are not too critical or pessimistic. Like all good Americans, they have generally proceeded on the assumption that, whatever little shortcomings it might have, this nation is nevertheless the finest and most enlightened on the face of the earth.

But since the war a new spirit seems to be abroad in the country. Frequently you encounter Americans who seem to think that the American horn has been blown long enough. They seem to think that boasting is no longer in order. They are inclined rather to make a critical estimate of its faults and to find those faults grievous. A number of books have been written since the war which practically reverse the traditional attitude of the American toward his country. Instead of calling it the greatest on earth, these writers point out that it is lagging behind all other civilizations in many of the activities which make civilization in literature, in art, in education, in respect for individual rights, in the intelligent enjoyment of life.

The Tail End of Civilization
Now this critical spirit seems to have gotten into congressmen, or at least into the committee on education. "These statistics put us into the ninth place among the nations," it says, in regard to our status in education, "with most of the civilized world ahead of us."

Nor do the congressmen blink the significance of the facts which they unearth. They recognize that a democracy is an absurdity unless the voters are intelligent enough to know what they are voting about. What, then, of a democracy in which a large fraction of the population is illiterate and a still larger one densely ignorant?

"In a free country its safety is jeopardized," the report modestly admits, "when its voters cannot read the ballots they cast and only know how to vote as they are told."

Here briefly are some of the facts which brought the congressmen to this frame of mind:
According to the census of 1910

there were in this country 5,500,000 persons 10 years of age or older who could not read or write, and the committee does not believe that conditions have improved since then. In addition to these there were 3,500,000 persons who could not read or write English, making a total of 9,000,000 in the land of the free who were no more qualified to exercise the right of the franchise than so many Australian bushmen. The surgeon general's report showed that of the men called to service between the ages of 21 and 31, nearly 25 per cent were practically illiterate. This means that a fourth of the young manhood of the country, which is its main reliance in peace and in war, is to all intents and purposes in a state of barbarism. For the Secretary of the Interior Lane estimates that the annual cost of illiteracy to the United States is $825,000,000. The director of the bureau of mines states that if all of the miners could read and speak English a thousand lives a year would be saved.

Illiteracy Nationwide
The committee emphatically refutes the idea that illiteracy is confined to the south, and to out-of-the-way sections. It shows that while Georgia has 89,000 illiterates, New York has 160,000, and that Pennsylvania has more of them than Alabama. Neither does the idea hold good that the illiterates are chiefly negroes. There are a million more white illiterates than colored.

Of the 15,000,000 foreign-born in the United States, the committee says that 5,000,000 cannot read or write English, and that 2,000,000 cannot read or write any language. The committee says that getting an education in the United States is largely a matter of luck, that the opportunity is not equal.

"In the south a large proportion of the negro children never see the inside of a schoolhouse," it asserts. "In the north there is hardly a city that has adequate school facilities for all its children."

The committee finds that in physical education our schools have failed even worse than in mental education. "The Provost Marshal General's report revealed the startling fact that more than one-third of the men examined for military service in the late war were disqualified by reason of physical disability," it reports. "It also stated that 90 per cent of these young men could have qualified had they been taught the simplest rules of hygiene and health. It was ignorance, gross ignorance, that in the vast majority of cases was the cause of their incompetence."

The committee finds that American teachers are utterly incompetent, that 100,000 of them are less than 20 years old, that 20,000 of them have no education beyond the eighth grade, that 200,000 of them have less than a high-school education, and that 300,000 of them have no professional training whatever. It finds that the average salary paid teachers in this country "is less than the wages paid scrub-women or ditch-diggers."

The measure by which the congressmen hope to ameliorate these conditions creates a department of education with a cabinet officer at its head. It appropriates $100,000,000 of federal money to be given the states on the condition that they raise an equal amount. This money is to be used in overcoming illiteracy, in "Americanizing" immigrants, in paying better salaries to teachers, in promoting physical education in training teachers. The administration of the funds is to be in the hands of the state. Much deference is paid to right of the states to manage their own affairs. They are merely to be offered encouragement, guidance and money.

Q. What is the inscription on the postoffice in Washington, D. C?
A. This inscription is "Messenger of Sympathy and Love—Servant of Parted Friends—Consoler of the Lonely—Bond of the Scattered Family—Enlarger of the Common Life—Carrier of News and Knowledge—Instrument of Trade and Industry—Promoter of Mutual Acquaintance—of Peace and Good Will—Among Men and Nations." This is not punctuated, and we have inserted a dash to indicate the end of each line.

Q. There are three brothers in our family. We all contribute equally in supporting our widowed mother. Can we claim any exemption in making out our income tax returns? W. K. I.
A. Since you and your two brothers contribute to your mother's support, none is the chief support, and therefore, none may claim a $2,000 exemption as the head of a family. The amount each of you contributes to her support cannot be deducted.

Q. What place is known as the Land of Cakes? F. E. D.
A. This is a title applied to Scotland, because of the baps, scones, and oatmeal cakes which, with porridge, form the principal food of the country people. The epithet was prevalent in the eighteenth century.

Q. I note frequently when bills are being voted on, a senator or representative will say that he is paired with another, and consequently cannot vote. The pair, I observe, is usually with a man of the opposite party. Will you explain this procedure? D. J. N.
A. It is the duty of a member of the senate or house of representatives to attend as many of the sessions of congress as possible and vote on measures presented. Sometimes, however, it is necessary for a member to be absent, and in this event he makes an arrangement with a member of the opposite party, by which the vote of neither shall be taken, in this way striking a balance. This is called pairing.

YANK PUBLISHERS BID FOR BOOK THEY HAD REJECTED

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Jane Burr, the novelist, has returned from England to America with an odd story.

Some time back several American publishers turned down her writings. So she went to London.

In short order she sold three novels to a large English publishing house. And they proved successful. One in particular, "The Passionate Spectator," which had been rejected by American publishers, attained the position of first among the six best sellers in England.

And here is where Miss Burr may enjoy a laugh.

The success of "The Passionate Spectator" overseas led to impassioned bidding for the privilege of publishing it in America. Finally she accepted the proposition of a New York house.

"Usually London is aloof and cold to the visiting American author," says Miss Burr. "But I won out with books that my own country's publishers couldn't appreciate."

"If you're an English writer the English publisher is always ready to welcome you. Almost any English man or woman who does a serious piece of work can get it published. I know one English novelist who has written 30 novels and hasn't made a penny out of them. But they've all been printed—at a loss."

THREE CHILDREN JOURNEY WITH $1 AS TOTAL WEALTH

Stevens Point, Wis.—Sent here alone from Chicago by their father, who is out of work and with $1 representing their total wealth, three children of 5, 8 and 10 years found local people not unkindly toward their welfare. The little strangers arrived on a midnight train, expecting their grandparents, who live ten miles out in the country, to meet them. A misunderstanding occurred and no one was at the station. A policeman gave them a lunch and found them a room for the night. The last lap of their journey was made in a taxi. They gave their names as Theodore, Martha and Teddy Vioski. The mother is dead.

NO "MYSTERY" IN LAWRENCE DEATH

Autopsy Report Declares Madison Miser Was Killed by a Train.

Madison.—The element of mystery disappeared in the Richard S. Lawrence case Monday night, when Dr. C. H. Bunting, pathologist at the University of Wisconsin, and Dr. W. F. Lorenz, head of the Psychopathic ward at the Mendota hospital, filed a report that after examining the remains of Mr. Lawrence they came to the conclusion that he came to his death by being struck by the engine of a railroad train.

Simultaneously, a committee of the county board reported that, in view of the results of the examination, no further investigation of the Lawrence case should be made at the expense of Dane county.

During the day summons in a conspiracy suit against Mr. Lawrence's widow, Mrs. Rachel D. Lawrence, and Frederick Max were issued in behalf of E. J. Lawrence, the purpose of this suit, which will be heard before R. S. Smith, court commissioner, on Saturday, being to bring to light the names of persons who were responsible for making it appear that there might have been foul play in connection with the death of Mr. Lawrence.

In their report Dr. Bunting and Dr. Lorenz said, "our findings which are appended in detail, are entirely consistent with the theory that Mr. Lawrence came to his death by being struck by the engine of a railroad train."

LESS PROPERTY TAX, MORE INCOME TAX, BLAINE PLAN

Madison.—Lower general property taxes and increased income taxes is the aspiration of Governor John J. Blaine, he told a church audience here Sunday night.

Increasing general property taxes can only be attended by grave dangers, the governor said.

Dark clouds have gathered, in the opinion of the governor, and further increases in property taxation might expose the state to bolshevism in some form.

With the liabilities of the state amounting to many millions over the income for the next biennium, the governor indicated his reputation as the "tightwad governor" would be sustained. The governor spoke from the text "If thou hast nothing to pay why should he take thy bed from under thee."

Madison, Wis.—Fully $50,000,000 is to be spent on Wisconsin highways during the coming biennium, said A. R. Hirst, state highway commissioner. A good deal depends upon action to be taken by the present legislature, he added, "but more than $31,000,000 is available for this year, and of course there will be new credits to the highway fund in 1922."

The total available fund for the present year, including state and federal aid, is $31,898,482. The amount available for new roads is $25,247,264. FORD PROPAGANDA RAPPEL BY SOLON

State Legislature Hears Resolution Condemning Race Hatred.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison.—Senator Joseph J. Hirsch, Milwaukee, introduced a joint resolution in the senate today deploring the effort of "certain public men" to arouse race hatred. The resolution says:

Whereas, The legislature of the state of Wisconsin recognizes that propaganda of race hatred is detrimental to the peace and welfare of the state, and

Whereas, The greatness of this country rests upon tolerance of race and creed as voiced by the fathers of this country in the Declaration of Independence, and

Whereas, Certain public men are trying to stir up race and creed hatred, and

Whereas, The existence of such intolerance in this country has been brought home to the members of this legislature through the free distribution of a pamphlet called "The International Jew", now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the legislature of the state of Wisconsin put itself on record as declaring that loyal citizens of the state of Wisconsin find anti-race propaganda in any form distasteful and that such propaganda seeks to undermine the foundations of tolerance which gave this country its birth, and which were the most powerful factors in contributing to its greatness.

Persons suffering from catarrh of the nose or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secura from your druggist 1 oz. Parment (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parment is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

D. P. Halloran's grade Guernsey, Molly, topped the list with 98.4 pounds of milk containing 54.3 pounds of butter fat.

F. D. Breitrick and sons own the second highest producer, Flora, a grade Guernsey. Her record for December was 96.1 pounds of milk containing 50.3 pounds of butter fat.

Tuberculin tests were given in 13 herds of the association, and only four cows reacted and showed signs of the disease. A total of 115 cows were dry in December. Other high herd records were:

GAS WAGONS ADDS INSULT TO DOBBIN'S INJURIES

Old Dobbin has learned that the automobile is not entirely a joy killer. He has found out that he who laughs last, laughs best, and that it doesn't pay to grin from ear to ear when he is summoned to pull a machine out of the mud or snowdrifts.

It was "Black Maria," the police car that took Dobbin and his twin brother down a peg. Thomas Bodrey, a Neenah farmer, was unable to gain the top of Pearl street hill Monday evening with a heavy load of household furniture which he was moving to Hortenville. He applied to the police for aid. The police car took the load in tow by means of a long rope, making it an easy matter to climb the grade.

LITTLE CHANGE IN BIDS FOR PAVING SINCE 1920

Bids for paving certain portions of College-ave., Superior, Appleton, Carver, Pacific, Water, Morrison and Lawrence-aves. were opened at a meeting of the board of public works in the city hall Monday afternoon and were referred to the city engineer for tabulation and will be acted upon at the meeting of the common council Wednesday evening. The bids run about the same as last year and were submitted by Rasmussen & Sons Co., Oshkosh; Western Improvement Co., Racine; White Construction Co., Milwaukee; Greinke Bros. and Garvey-Weyenberg Construction Co., Appleton.

TWO APPLETON GIRLS IN GLEE CLUB THIS YEAR

Two Appleton young ladies qualified for the Lawrence College Girls Glee club this year. They are Miss Margarette Schuelke, daughter of A. G. Schuelke, and Miss Crystal Shoemaker, daughter of F. M. Shoemaker. Miss Schuelke is a member of Lawrence choir and a pledge of Mu Phi Epsilon sorority. Miss Shoemaker is a member of the Methodist and Lawrence choirs and of the Kollo club. The itinerary of the club this year will include northern Wisconsin and Minnesota, with a 3-day encampment in Minneapolis. Miss Gertrude Graves and Miss Gladys Tyve Bratland, pianist, will accompany the club.

HERE IS A CHANCE TO HAVE LODGER FOR A DAY

An unprecedented demand for hotel accommodations for the real estate convention opening Wednesday has caused a shortage of rooms and the reservations committee is therefore busy making up a list of private homes that will take delegates for Wednesday evening. There is not another hotel room available.

Howell G. Thomas, chairman of the committee, has appealed to families who have rooms available for Wednesday evening to telephone him at the Elk club sometime during the day. Many delegates are expected to arrive who failed to make reservation in advance.

CONVENTION SPEAKER

J. Adam Bede

HUMORIST WILL BE BIG FEATURE OF CONVENTION

J. Adam Bede, Banquet Speaker, Is Thinker as Well as Lecturer.

One of the speakers whom visiting reporters will clamor to hear at the convention opening Wednesday is Hon. J. Adam Bede, former congressman from Minnesota. He is to be the principal speaker at the closing banquet at 6:30 Thursday evening in Hotel Appleton. His subject is, "What Is the Matter with the World?"

A number of Appleton people have asked permission to hear him, but local convention committees have declined to accept any banquet reservations until the number of delegates attending the convention is determined. Announcement will be made in the newspaper Wednesday evening by Daniel P. Steinberg, convention chairman, if there is room for local people. Mr. Bede is one of the best known humorists of the middle west. His trite sayings are quoted widely, containing both a laugh and a point which usually sets the hearer thinking. He says "the cigarette is a burning shame"; "some folks have so little music in them they can't keep the even tenor of their way"; "every good mother knows there is a sewing and a ripping time." He introduced a resolution in congress "to swap the Philippines for Ireland and raise our own police."

Newspeak Man
The speaker established and edited several country newspapers and worked his way up in the newspaper ranks until he became Washington correspondent for several large publications. He has campaigned and lectured in every state in the union and has traveled extensively in Europe and other countries. Congress claimed him for six years as a representative from Minnesota.

Few men in public life are deeper students. He presents historical facts in an interesting way. His study of the needs of the nation and its problems has given him some positive ideas as to their solution. He is a rapid-fire speaker with lots of fun in his lectures. Gustav Keller is to preside at the banquet and Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, is to give a short address. Mr. Bede has wired Mr. Steinberg that he surely will be here Thursday morning.

Music will be one of the prominent banquet features. Vocal solos are to be rendered by Prof. Carl J. Waterman and Mrs. Eleanor Mehl Berger. Prof. Percy Fullinwider will give a violin solo. There will also be numbers by a Lawrence college quartet and by one of the glee clubs. Kollo's orchestra will play during the dinner period.

"Hotel" Is Busy
Business picked up at Hotel DePrim Monday evening. Five destitute young men seeking employment applied at the police station for lodging and were accommodated. "Trade" has been exceptionally good since the business depression came on.

Appleton Men "Remember The Maine" Destruction Twenty-Three Years Ago

News of Tragedy Reached Appleton Early in the Morning and Caused Intense Feeling. Policy of U. S. Government Was Justifiable.

Tuesday is the twenty-third anniversary of the blowing up of the battleship Maine which was one of the principal causes that led to the Spanish-American war. The tragedy happened at a time when considerable feeling had been aroused in the country over the cruel warfare that Spain was waging against the Cubans and from that time on the national slogan was "Remember the Maine."

"The destruction of the battleship is very vivid in my memory," said Col. E. B. Homan, who at that time was captain of Co. G which two months later answered the call to arms. "The battleship was sent down on a friendly mission and at the time it was blown up was lying in the harbor. The explosion occurred shortly after midnight and if my memory serves me correctly was not carried by the early editions of Chicago newspapers."

"News of the tragedy, however, reached Appleton at an early hour in the morning and created great excitement. If anyone had doubt as to whether the United States ought to interfere in the Cuban insurrection it was dispelled. People were of one accord that war was inevitable and that the Cubans ought to be free."

Pursued Right Policy
"It was never definitely settled who blew up the battleship, but it was established beyond doubt during the investigation that it was blown up from outside. The battleship was raised in 1912 and was towed out into the ocean and sunk. The government was working on it at the time I visited Havana and Panama and was about ready to bring it to the surface."

"As to the policy of the government at that time I think it was the proper and only policy that could be pursued. Public sentiment favored freeing the Cubans whom the Spanish government greatly oppressed." Capt. M. S. Peerenboom was another military officer at the time who also has a vivid recollection of the event in rapid as to whether the policy of the government at the time was proper or he said. "We went down there and fought it, didn't we?" "I was attending the law school at Valparaiso," said Attorney F. J. Hooper, "when I heard of the sinking of the Maine and I shall never forget the effect it had on the students. We did not hear of it until the classes were in session and immediately there was the wildest kind of a demonstration. The policy pursued by the government was in keeping with its traditions and I believe the struggling Cubans were entitled to our recognition and support."

WESTEND BUILDING CHANGES OWNERSHIP

The building at 937 to 939 College-ave., occupied by August Brandt Co. has been sold by its owner, John Schmitt, Prospect-st., to Frank Groh, cashier of Outagamie County bank. As his lease does not expire until next fall, Mr. Brandt will continue to occupy the building until his proposed new building at the corner of College-ave. and Superior-st. is completed. At that time the new owner expects to use the building for other purposes which he has not announced. The consideration was private.

VALUABLE WORK HORSES SOLD TO LUMBER FIRM

One of the finest teams of working horses in several counties was purchased from W. S. Harder, Neenah, by Joseph Ullman for $800 Monday and sold to a lumber company which intends to ship them to the government Indian reservation at Neopit. The team is a span of well built grays of imposing size and strength. They proved quite a novelty to horsemen while at the Ullman stables, because valuable teams of this kind are seldom seen since the advent of the motor truck. Mr. Harder purchased the team from Mr. Ullman as colts about a year ago.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. The cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistent, empty, from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ALFALFA GROWERS TO HAVE MEETING

Greater Production for Outagamie County Will Be Urged. Graber to Speak.

First steps toward greater alfalfa production in Outagamie county will be taken at a meeting of growers called for 1:30 Tuesday, Feb. 22, in Pegel hall, Greenville station. L. F. Graber, Madison, is to speak.

This matter was considered of such importance that it was not made a part of the 2 day farmer meeting this week, but is to be the only subject of the special meeting. More than 100 farmers are expected to attend, including many who have never raised this variety of hay but who are interested in finding out about it. Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent of the First National bank, is assisting in promoting the meeting.

Mr. Graber is with the college of agriculture, Madison, and has given special study to alfalfa and its possibilities. He is reputed to know more about this product than any man in Wisconsin. He will tell the farmers the difficulties that must be overcome. He usually has some new facts about alfalfa every time he appears.

The movement for greater alfalfa culture is considered another forward step in the agricultural interests of Outagamie county. It is successfully raised in the towns of Greenville, Ellington and Dale, where the soil seems peculiarly adapted to it.

Alfalfa is coming into prominence as a cattle food because it has twice the feeding value of ordinary clover hay and is found to have the same food value as wheat bran. Growers who have fed it to their stock are its strongest advocates.

MATHEMATICS ATTRACTS MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS

That greater interest is being shown by college students in mathematics, especially commercial mathematics, is proven by the fact that the mathematics department of Lawrence has a larger attendance this year than ever before. An increase of attendance of 100 per cent is shown in the commercial algebra class, analytical geometry about 50 per cent and trigonometry shows an increase of 15 per cent. It is believed the greater enrollment in general in the college is not alone responsible for the increase in the mathematics classes, but that students are really taking greater interest in that kind of work. INTERLAKES LOSE IN LAST 30 SECONDS

Lucky Basket in Final Moments Gives Oshkosh Team One Point Victory.

It was proved to be the luckiest game in the history of the Oshkosh team when they defeated the Interlakes team in the last 30 seconds of play.

The game was played in the gymnasium of the Oshkosh school. The Oshkosh team was led by George Hill, who scored 15 points. The Interlakes team was led by Jack Rogers, who scored 12 points.

With the beginning of the second half, however, the original lineup of the Oshkosh team was changed. Hill was moved to the center of the court, and Rogers was moved to the forward position.

ATTACK ON LANDIS DOES NOT SURPRISE BASEBALL MAGNATES

Judge Had Agreed to Leave Bench if Work Became Too Heavy for Him.

The United Press Leased Wire. New York—We were expecting it. It was bound to come. John A. Landis, president of the National League, said Tuesday with regard to move to unseat Judge Landis.

Heider was the first to sponsor Judge Landis as the supreme head of baseball and he almost wrecked the major leagues before he was able to get the American league behind the judge.

Prominent baseball men here refused to comment on the case, saying the motives behind the assault on the barometer are so obvious that no explanation is needed.

Politics, pure and simple, that's all there is to it," one of them said Tuesday.

Before he accepted the baseball job Landis conferred with legal friends and department officials and along with his own deductions he decided it would not be illegal for him to hold both positions. However, he told the club owners that if the amount of business ever became too great he would give up his place on the bench.

HILL SET FOR BOUT WITH CANUCK CHAMP IN ARMORY TONIGHT

Appleton Man Finishes Week of Hardest Training for Grueling Test.

After a week of more than ordinary strenuous training, George Hill is ready for his wrestling match with Jack Rogers, Canadian champion, at the armory tonight.

McCourt playing forward for the Interlakes was injured when run into by an Oshkosh man and had to be taken from the game.

The battle should be an exhibition of various kinds of headlocks. Both men favor the headlock and it will be a test of endurance.

It Rogers can get enough of the locks on Hill's head to make him groggy, it will be a bad night for the Appleton champion.

George's locks work as well as they did against Romanoff. It is more than probable that Rogers will be content to remain in Canada hereafter.

Henry Stoeff, the Oshkosh champion, who managed to hold off Hill for an hour in a handicap match is all swelled up with himself over the victory.

Stoeff was so tired after the bout from running around the ring he could hardly get home but he is confident he is a better man than Hill at least that is what he is reputed to be telling his friends.

Appleton fans who saw the match declare Stoeff did everything possible to keep out of Hill's way and refused to waste his time hanging on to the ring posts and running away.

Elmer Janssen, Hill's manager, is willing to give Stoeff a match any time he wants it with the handicap feature removed to settle for all time Stoeff's claims as a wrestler.

noses out of it," a baseball official said Tuesday, "the judge might have resigned from the bench before the middle of the season. But he's a fighter and since an attempt is being made to force him out, he'll fight them to a finish. It seems strange the great love for baseball some of those politicians are acquiring all of a sudden.

IS HUNTING FOR REAL CHAMPS

TEX O'ROURKE

New York—Real army and navy champs! The National Boxing Association is hunting for them.

Secretary Tex O'Rourke of the newly organized body plans a series of elimination bouts in army and navy camps all over the country.

Paular of doughboys and muddys boxes a stud up against their British cousins was a disappointment to military officials.

In bouts recently held here the Britons proved superior to the Americans.

Tex believed that their failure was due to hurried selections and that they were little pams best.

Following a set of elimination bouts the winners will go to England and try to win back lost laurels.

Tex is also seeking boxing champions of the major industries, He's arranging elimination bouts and a final wind-up tourney for boxers among lumber camps, steel mills, shipbuilding yards and other industries.

"These tough fellows show more real wheelhearted fighting than most professionals," says Tex.

The National Boxing Association, which now embraces 17 states, will attempt to line up all states where boxing laws exist according to Tex.

TWO MORE LITTLE 5 GAMES ON SCHEDULE

Small Playing Floor Handicaps Lawrence in Race for Cage Title.

With only two more conference games on its schedule, Lawrence is planning to end the season in a blaze of glory. Ripon will be taken into camp Friday night in what should be the hardest game of the season.

The Red and White team has still to lose its first game this year and has the conference title clinched but that will not detract from the efforts of the Lawrence team. McChesney is looking for revenge and is pinning his faith on his squad.

Carroll will be tackled on its own floor after the Ripon game. The Waukesha team was easy pickings for Lawrence in the game here and no difficulty is expected in the second meeting.

It is almost impossible to develop a championship basketball team at Lawrence because of the plucky gymnasium. The team can win its games here but it is lost in the larger gymnasiums supported by other schools.

Until Lawrence secures a new gym or makes arrangements for use of the armory there is little probability that the basketball pennant will wave from Main hall.

Coach McChesney will begin work on track in the near future. He has a large number of men who are expected to go strong and if they live up to expectations he may cap another pennant in his first year with the local institution.

SOUTHLAND EAGER FOR BALL INVASION

Preparations Are Complete for Annual Visit of Northern Celebrities.

By United Press Leased Wire. Houston, Texas—Southern U. S. A. is all set for the "big leaguers."

The diamond has been put in shape for imported groundkeepers, the grandstand repaired, knot holes boarded up and the town hotel has been spruced up for the athletes from the north who demand three squares a day.

Town flappers have fixed up their best bib and tucker for even a glance from the "idols" from the north. Small boys have their gloves all oiled up to aid outfielders in chasing flies.

Chambers of commerce are arranging for banquets to be tendered the leaguers and the ladies all society of the biggest church has apportioned out the work of feeding the banqueters.

Texas, the banner state with seven clubs coming, expects to get at least one look at every "big leaguer" on the two circuits. Louisiana, next with four clubs, has hopes of watching Babe Ruth pole out a couple of homers.

Arkansas and Florida with two each are expecting "big times" for a few weeks.

San Antonio, Shreveport and Little Rock youngsters and older fans are favored this year with two teams each. The Giants and Tigers mix at the Cotton City. Yankees and Dodgers for honors at Shreveport and Pirates and Red Sox will "bust" 'em out at Little Rock.

REO

Just Think—330,000 Miles!

Do you know—have you ever heard of—any other motor truck that has to its credit an authenticated record of 50,000 miles in actual, every-day service carrying its capacity load?

Now consider this record.

One Reo "Speed-Wagon" now has to its credit more than 330,000 miles—and still adding to that mileage daily—that's thirteen times around the world.

It is one of a fleet of passenger busses running between Los Angeles and Anaheim on a daily schedule as regularly as any railway train.

In the same city—Los Angeles—is a fleet of ten Reo "Speed-Wagons" each of which now has an average of over 150,000 miles!

These latter are engaged in picking up and delivering laundry.

Do you know of any other Motor truck that has, or can, equal those records made by Reo "Speed-Wagons" in every-day service?

comes to his new home at 2340 S. street, Washington, to take up his life as a private citizen.

Vice President Marshall thought a moment. "March 5?" he said. "Hm-m-m-Well, I think I'll sleep late, pack my trunks and get out of here. First a spell on the 'Chautauqua circuit' to get some money, then a trip to Europe with Mrs. Marshall."

As for Tumulty himself, "I'll be practicing law here in Washington—and be happy."

NIGHT RIDER CASE IS ON TRIAL AGAIN

Hallie Dietrick, Hortonville; Perry Culbertson, Seymour; Henry H. Lemke, Appleton; John H. Tubbs, Seymour; George E. Jackson, Appleton; John Koss, Appleton.

Events connected with the visit of the alleged night riders at the home of Mr. Deml in the fall of 1918 in an effort to obtain his subscription to Liberty bonds were recited by the attorneys for both sides. Mr. Cochems had only a short story, telling how the visitors came in the night and threatened to break down his door if he refused entrance. He alleged that Deml was roughly handled and that a rope was placed about his neck, accompanied by threats of hanging if he would not subscribe.

Attorney Martin went into greater detail. He was interrupted twice by Mr. Cochems, who objected when he alluded to the last trial in which it was shown that C. B. Ballard produced the action, obtained the funds and engaged the attorneys even though Mr. Deml was unwilling to do so. Mr. Martin also stated that other defendants had been added in the new case. Judge Wickham sustained Mr. Martin, remarking he had no way of knowing whether these were facts of the case or not, and that the testimony would have to show this.

C. B. Ballard was seated beside Mr. Deml during the morning, ready to be summoned as a witness. The courtroom was filled with spectators, mostly farmers. A number of women were in the audience.

Deml is suing the defendants for $25,000 damages for personal injuries and the mental shock resulting from the incident. The defendants named are Stephen Balliet, Dr. A. E. Rector, Dr. D. J. O'Connor, John Balliet, Albert West, Joseph Johnson, Frank Grogan, George T. Prim, Harry Donahue, Benjamin Prugh, and others.
